Welcome

Every year the School calendar is bursting at the seams with an incredible range of opportunities for the community that makes up John Septimus Roe Anglican Community School and 2010 is no exception. With the completion of the Performing Arts Centre, additions to the instrument collection and the rapid growth of student participation in music, dance and drama the Arts at JSRACS have taken on a wonderfully vital and exuberant existence that contributes immeasurably to school life. We'd like to share some of that creative energy with you.

In the School's 21st year I'd like to briefly draw on the tradition and introduce this Arts Calendar as your key to the door that leads to extensive entertainment options for the year ahead. The scope of the events is broad and varied: the choral and instrumental music includes jazz and opera, contemporary and traditional, sacred and secular; the art from students in Pre-primary to Year 12 never fails to impress; dance flows from ballet to hip-hop and everything in between; and in 2010 drama covers the gamut from musical theatre to pantomime.

Please take special note of the 25th Anniversary ASC Concert featuring musicians from all Anglican Community Schools and the oratorio A Child of our Time when the JSR Secondary Choir will perform in St Mary's Cathedral with musicians from The WA Academy of Performing Arts. They are not to be missed occasions.

As well as the ticketed events we hope you will enjoy the 14 free events throughout the year and the weekly opportunity to share Evensong with our St Paul's Chapel Choir.

This year-long programme allows you to plan ahead and book early for performances and events that interest you and even save money by purchasing one of the packages that offer a 15% discount on ticket prices. You'll find all the booking information at the back of the book.

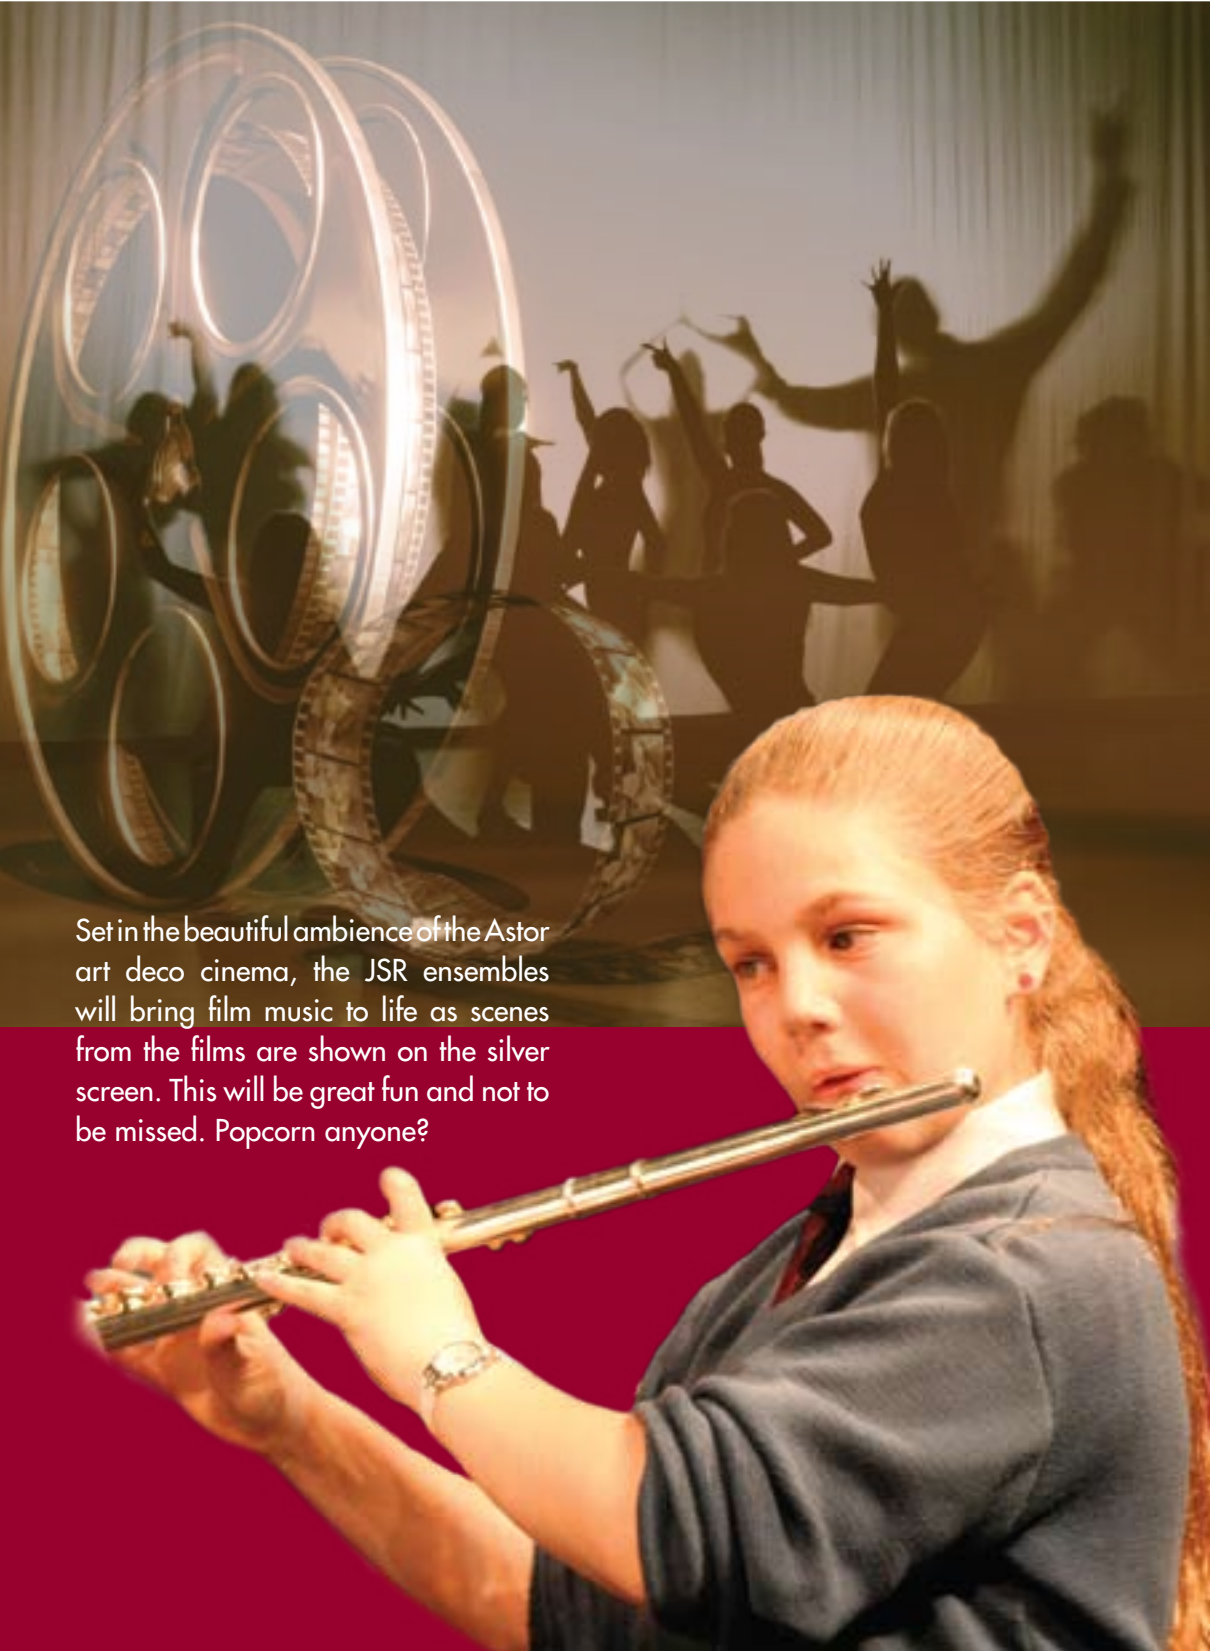

In the pocket of the back cover there is a calendar showing events, tour dates and many of the rehearsal times for students and the parents that encourage, participate and chauffeur. It's a full-time job and we thank you!

I'm looking forward to all that 2010 holds for the Arts at JSRACS. I hope that you will be inspired by this Arts Calendar and join us in celebrating the outstanding creative energy of our staff and students.
